Stock Farm for Sale.

Having decided to quit farming I am offering for sale the old Caldwell farm situated 6 miles South of Campbellsville on the Columbia pike. This farm has a pike frontage of a mile contains 408 acres, and is in a fine state of cultivation. There are about 300 acres of tillable ground, mostly in grass and the remainder is pasture and timber land. This farm is splendidly watered, having 12 live springs and a creek flowing through it for the distance of about a mile. Has a handsome dwelling house with 11 rooms, 2 excellent tenant houses, 1 cabin, 3 barns, 3 cribs, 1 granary, tool and wagon shed, stock scales and all other necessary outbuildings. Some of the finest tobacco land in this section of the State is on this farm. This place is in a splendid neighborhood, being one mile from school, post office, store and blacksmith shop, and having 3 churches of different denominations within 3 miles. The growing crop and a complete set of first-class farm implements can also be purchased. Terms easy. Address:

H. R. Caldwell,
Ad. 44-1f. Burdick, Ky.

A large crowd attended the sale of Mrs. Ada Taylor, last Saturday. Every thing sold well except horses. They were knocked off at low prices.

Kratzer---Basham.

Announcements of the marriage of Miss Alma Kratzer to Rev. Cecil Basham, have been received by friends here.

The wedding occurred in September in Indianapolis, where Miss Kratzer resides, and they will make their future home in Eagle Colo., the home of the groom. The bride formerly resided here, and the groom was for several years a student in the Lindsey-Wilson. Both are kindly remembered here by many who wish them much happiness.

Our Mormon Elders.

Two wanderers worn and weary
Called at the writer's gate,
Saints of this our latter day
But still not up to date.

Toiling 'neath a summer's sun
No purse or scrip possessing,
They come in faith and love to bring
To us their greatest blessing.

Strangers in a stranger's land—
Few friendly faces meet them
While toiling on their weary way,
With no loved ones to greet them.

To teach them now the better way
Lest they perchance defile us,
We found, alas! to our surprise,
We'd tackled Paul and Silas.

To storm the works of Satan—
His fortress to besiege,
They're just from Salt Lake City,
Strong in the privilege.

To have us all of one pure mind—
All birds of the same feather
United in the bond of love
When all may flock together.

Be led no more by pastors green
Beside the placid waters,
No widows seeking nuptial bliss,
And no unwedded daughters.

No hungry flock or starving fleece,
So sad, but not amazing,
The pastor may be all so nice,
But all too short for grazing.

Our Brigham was a family man
Progressive in his life,
With lots of pretty lady folks
Composing Brigham's wife.

Of Joseph's inspiration
We meet with cool accord,
Nor do they seek to burden us
With Lucre for the Lord.

The goodey man who never errs
Such heretics devour,
He loves the apostolic church,
And the true church is ours.

Remember what the Master said,
Then let us have a care
For entertaining strangers
Or angels unaware.

Assist your brother mortal now,
While both are in the way,
The parting of the ways may come
Before another day.

Knocked Out by Rain.

Great preparations had been made for road working throughout the county on last Friday and Saturday. A rain came and the plows, shovels and hoes could not be used on account of the muddy condition of the roads. However, a little later the wing workers will be given an opportunity to exercise their muscles. Had the weather been propitious on the 24th and 25th great improvements would have been made on the county highways.

For Sale.

I have an extra good pair of Standard Computing Scales for sale. Will give the buyer a bargain. They are as good as new.

The two Louisville boys who stole Dr. L. E. Williams' automobile, tying it to a tree, were tried at Glasgow and sent to the House of Reform.

Mr. J. H. Smith's sale, billed to have taken place last Friday, was declared off on account of the inclement weather and the smallness of the crowd in attendance.

There is a black sow at my place. Will weigh about 200 pounds.

Ed McWhorter,

Mr. Mont Bault, of Absher neighborhood, sold a boundary of timber to a man named Earls, of Taylor county, for $1,000. The timber is now being cut.

Lost—A bracelet and a locket. Finder will leave at this office.

Cumberland County Loses a Good Citizen.

Mr. I. C. Winfrey, who was one of Cumberland county's best known citizens, and who had many acquaintances in Adair, died at his late home, near Becks store, last Saturday.

He was sixty-eight years old, and for a number of years was a local minister in the Christian Church. He was the father of Mr. L. C. Winfrey, of this place, who was at his parent's bedside when the end came. The interment was at Burkesville.

The deceased was confined to his bed since last July, and it is thought that injuries sustained while breaking a mule caused his death. He was a man who had many friends, and who will be greatly missed.

Music and Dramatic Club.

Miss Hewitt, head of the Expression and Music department of Lindsey-Wilson Training School, has recently organized a Music and Dramatic club.

The first meeting of the club was held with Miss Hewitt, in her studio. The business of organizing and getting the club in running order, occupied the greater part of the time of the first meeting, although a short, but very interesting program was also rendered. At the close of the meeting, Miss Hewitt served dainty refreshments.

The club next met with Miss Mallie Moss, on the afternoon of Saturday October the 25th.

The chief topic for the Club's discussion at this time was, Leading Actors and Actresses of the Day. Much interest was manifested in the subject, and it is hoped this interest will constantly increase.

Miss Moss served a delightful salad course, which was much enjoyed by all.

The object of this club is to stimulate interest in the important subjects—Music and Expression.

Here Him.

Rev. Charles R. Hamilton, D. D., of Pagsanhan Laguna, Philippine Islands, will occupy the pulpit at the Presbyterian church next Sunday evening. Dr. Hamilton will speak of conditions in the Islands, religious and political, having been in the Philippines for the past six years as a missionary of the Presbyterian church. He is a brother of the minister of the church here, and has been visiting his mother and brother in Cumberland county.

Arbor Day.

Gov. James B. McCreary has issued a proclamation setting forth Thursday, Nov. 6th, as "Arbor Day." Supt. Barksdale Hamlett has also issued a bulletin calling on the public schools of the state to observe the day with appropriate exercises.

Brick for Sale.

If you need brick call or phone Up-ton Grider, near Craycraft, Ky. Hard brick $1 per hundred, Soft brick 60 and 80 cents per hundred.

Gov. McCreary's proclamation setting apart Friday and Saturday the 24th and 25th as road working days, appealed to the people, and in counties where rain did not interfere, a great deal of work was done. Many men in Adair were ready, but rain prevented. New dates will probably be given out.

Mr. R. L. Allen met with a painful accident Monday morning. He was handling a piece of wire for fencing when he lost his hold, and the end flew up and struck him in the corner of his right eye. The sight was not injured.

The Horse Shoe Bottom Basket Ball team defeated the Lindsey-Wilson boys at this place last Saturday night. The score was eight to five. Some very fine playing was done on both sides.

My mill is now running. Call and give me a trial, satisfaction guaranteed. I want to buy corn and wheat. Will pay the highest market price for good wheat.

The shows are growing better, Thursday and Saturday nights are the dates. The Parlor Circle is a nice place to spend an hour.

A very harmonious and enthusiastic Steward's meeting at the Methodist church last Wednesday. Fifteen ministers and laymen were present.

Badly Hurt.

Mr. Ernest Cundiff, who lives on Pelham Branch, three miles from Columbia, met with a very serious accident last Wednesday morning. He was hauling apples with a wagon and team, and he had alighted from the carryall and was holding the lines. For some reason the team got scared and started to run, jerking Mr. Cundiff to the ground, one wheel passing over his abdomen. He was conveyed home, and a physician called. All day Wednesday the unfortunate man was a great sufferer, and it was feared that he was injured internally. He is some better now, and hopes are entertained for his early recovery. Mr. Cundiff is the Progressive candidate for Assessor.

Russell County Won.

The Lindsey-Wilson Basket-Ball team failed to do up the Russell county boys last week. At Rowena the game was close, 5 to 6 in favor of Rowena. The Jamestown boys had many scores to spare to their credit. This notice should have appeared last week, but in the rush of business it was over looked. A number of young ladies accompanied the L. W. T. S. club to Russell county, and they all report most excellent treatment and a very delightful time.

Died Near Glenville.

Mrs. Ella Blair, who was the wife of John Will Blair, died near Glenville last Wednesday. She was about fifty years old, and was a victim of consumption. The funeral and interment occurred on Thursday morning at the Pleasant Hill Church, which was largely attended. The deceased was a lady highly respected, and will be greatly missed in the neighborhood.

Service at Union.

Rev. Mr. Hamilton, of the Presbyterian church, desires us to announce that he will fill his regular appointment at the Union Church, Sunday.

Communications for publication or inquirers for job-work should be addressed to the Adair County News. Frequently such documents are addressed to me and they go to my residence before reaching the office, causing a delay.

The dwelling house owned by Mr. John B. Watson, at Plum Point Bridge, caught fire last Saturday night and it took heroic efforts upon the part of many neighbors to save it.

Thursday, November 27th will be Thanksgiving. The name of the minister, who will preach the sermon here, will be announced later.

Injured by Street Car.

A gentleman named Wilkerson, whose home is it Casey county, his post-office being Font Hill, Russell county, reached Columbia last Saturday afternoon in a deplorable condition, being terribly crippled, his injury having occurred in Louisville by a street car running over him. He was brought to this place, on a cot, in an automobile, and was accompanied by his friend, Mr. John R. Luttrell, a merchant at Font Hill, who went to the city to convey Mr. Wilkerson home.

In a short time after reaching Columbia the injured man was placed in a spring wagon and the journey home started.

Mr. Wilkerson has many friends who are anxious for his speedy recovery.

Got Three Years.

Our readers will remember that some time last Summer deputy U. S. Marshal, U. G. McFarland was shot from ambush in Monroe county, by an illicit dealer in liquor. The man who did the shooting is named Barnes, who was finally caught and placed in jail at Louisville. Last week he was tried in the Federal Court and given three years in the penitentiary.

For Rent.

Six room house, garden, and good orchard, one-half mile from court house, Columbia, Ky. Also about 40 acres of good land for corn. Call First National Bank or G. W. Dillon, Breeding, Ky.

Withdrawal.

For the interest, as I see it, of the people of Adair county, I am withdrawing from the race for School Superintendent.

Very truly,
George Aaron.

Mr. I. M. Grimsley, who is an independent candidate for surveyor of this county, first decided to have his own picture as his device, and he has informed many of his friends that would be his emblem. However, he has made a change and his device will be the emblem of liberty. Those who desire to support him will please remember the change and stamp in the circle under the last named emblem.

Prof. Parker Jackman, of color, this place, who is known as a good citizen and a very useful man among his race, was appointed by Governor McCreary as a delegate to attend the meeting of the fiftieth anniversary of the emancipation of the slaves which recently was held at Atlantic City. On account of the Professor's school work he could not attend.

Attorney General James Garnett, of this place, was, last week, elected Grand master of the Grand Council of Kentucky. Some years ago he had the honor of being Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Kentucky. His recognition by the Masons of Kentucky is certainly appreciated by him and also by his home people.

Mrs. N. B. Miller, a former resident of Columbia, now of Springfield, Mo., is President of the Sixth District Missouri Federation of Women's Clubs, their annual gathering having just closed at Greenfield. Mrs. Miller presided over the meeting and made an address.

The mixed train running between Lebanon and Greensburg has been given strict orders to depart from Lebanon on time, 10:30 a. m., and return to Lebanon in time to connect with the fast passenger train, due to arrive at Lebanon at 7:00 in the evening.

The passenger train between Greensburg and Louisville commenced Sunday running on the same schedule as on the week days, arriving at 8:37 p. m., and leaving at 6:14 a. m.

The candidates are putting in the last week before the election, in an effort to get out a full vote. Some are riding day and night.

Mr. Geo. Grider, about sixty years old, who lived at Coburg, this county, died in the St. Joseph Infirmary, Louisville, Monday morning at 7 o'clock. He had just submitted to an operation. His remains were brought home for interment. He was a good citizen.

Mr. H. C. Fesse, of this place, received a letter from his daughter, Miss Mary Belle Fesse, stating that she was married in the city of Louisville, to Mr. A. R. Bishop, on Thursday the 16th of this month, and that she and her husband are for the present, boarding with the parents of the groom.

The couple had been corresponding for several years, and he had visited his now bride several times in this place. We have no acquaintance with the groom, but understand he is a young business man, employed in the city. It is hoped here that happiness and prosperity may be the lot of this young couple.

Would Be Teacher.

For the average daily attendance add the number of boys present every day of the month and divide by the number of school days; find the average attendance of the girls the same way and add both results for the total. For the number enrolled put down the number who have started to school, whether present daily or not. For the attendance by grades I would give the average daily attendance for each. The total would have to agree with the total of the first item. To get the attendance based on the census, find out from the trustee the number of children of school age in your district, then take your average daily attendance, add two ciphers and divide it by the census number. You must understand decimals. To ascertain the percentage of attendance based on enrollment, take the average daily attendance and add two ciphers, dividing by the total number enrolled.

Our Gradyville correspondent informs us over the phone that Lindsey Dowell, who was a son of the late Dode Dowell, was shot and killed at Edmington Monday by Deputy Sheriff Franklin. The particulars did not reach our informant.

LATER—Franklin was mortally wounded by Ches Pendleton and will die, and Dowell's brother was also shot in the hand. Pendleton made his escape. Great excitement reigns.

Commissioner's Sale.

By virtue of a Judgment and order of sale of Adair circuit court, rendered at the September term, thereof, 1913, in the above cause, for the sum of one hundred and fifty-one and 70-100 dollars, with the interest at the rate of 6 per cent., per annum from the 20th day of February, 1913, until paid, and $41 and 40-100 costs herein, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the court house door in Columbia, Ky., to the highest bidder, at public auction on Monday, the 2nd day of Nov., 1913, at one o'clock p. m., or thereabout (being county court) upon a credit of 6 months, the following described property, to-wit: A certain tract of land situated in Adair county, Ky., on the waters of Butler's Fork of Russell's creek, containing 2 1/2 acres more or less, and is the same land conveyed by T. S. Wooten to Thomas James, by deed recorded in deed book No. 27, page 99, of the Adair county clerk's office, to which reference is made for complete description.

For the purchase price, the purchaser, with approved surety or securities, must execute bond, bearing legal interest from the day of sale, until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

W. A. Coffey, Master Commissioner.

Ed. Z. T. Williams delivered two excellent sermons at the Christian church last Sunday, forenoon and evening, large congregations hearing him. At the Presbyterian church Rev. Frederick Hamilton preached two of the most interesting sermons since taking charge of the church. They were helpful and full of information.

Dr. Ed Sallee had the misfortune to get one of his legs broken this morning. Just how the accident occurred has not been reported. His many friends hope that it is not a bad break.

A Voice from Glensfork.

The Proclamation of Gov. McCreary naming Oct., 24 and 25, as road working days, lays at the door of every Kentuckian—the best opportunity he has ever had to “show the sort of stuff he is made of.” Everybody cusses the roads and wants to blame some one else for their sorry condition. I will tell you, fellow-citizens, who is to blame for our miserable roads. It is you. The roads are just what you have made them, and are as good as you are willing to make them, else they would be better. Now what are you going to do on Oct., 24 and 25? You don't have to do anything. But if you go out and work your road, you will prove that you were not lying when you said that you were wanting to do what you could to make our roads better, and if you stay at home and roll in your fat, and loll in your idleness, you prove yourself a lying, conceited cuss of a parasite, who is always ranting about the great and good things that ought to be, but willing to do nothing when it comes to a show down. There is a vast difference in the type of citizen who works the road for fear that he will be fined if he fails to do so, and the one who works it in pursuit of the happiness that he may bring to himself and his fellow man. We have here a test that will prove beyond further doubt, to which class we belong. You say if you go and work, you will be laboring for hundreds of lazy rascals, who will not strike a lick, but are willing and anxious to profit by your labors, for which they are willing to give nothing in return. It is exactly as you say, but while you labor for these hundreds, there will be other thousands who are shedding the sweat of honest toil for your benefit.

The matter will elicit much comment, and now that the quadrennial crop of county candidates is nearly ripe enough to fall off—than the candidate, no one will be busier the next few days in his earnest endeavors to find out which is the popular side of the question, if the work side seems to be in majority, his boost will be everywhere present, but if he concludes the dead-ends are most numerous, he will brand it as the greatest blow at civil liberty, ever administered in history of the Adamic race. Whichever side he may take, he will surely be heard to exclaim in the spirit of Absalom, of old; Oh, that I were in office that public affairs might be more wisely administered, and the people obtain justice.

Avoid Sedative Cough Medicines.

If you want to contribute directly to the occurrence of capillary bronchitis and pneumonia use cough medicines that contain codeine, morphine, heroin and other sedatives when you have a cough or cold. An expectorant like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is what is needed. That cleans out the culture beds or breeding places for the germs of pneumonia and other germ diseases. That is why pneumonia never results from a cold when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. It has a world wide reputation for its cures. It contains no morphine or other sedative. An Appeal to the Voters of Adair County.

I am before the people of Adair as a candidate for County School Superintendent on an independent ticket. I am making no party's fight and am not fighting any party. I am a friend to all, and a peoples' man. I earnestly solicit votes from all, regardless of party affiliations. As to my qualifications for the position I seek I must leave to the judgment of the people of this county. I have been engaged in school work over thirty-five years and believe I am in position to know the duties of Superintendent of Schools and should I be elected will perform that duty fairly, impartially and industriously to advance educational interests. I have, all along, stood for the right as I saw it, for good morals, good citizenship and upright living.

The County Superintendent's work touches the vital interests of the rising generation, and affects the future citizens of our county for good or for evil.

It is the most important position to be filled in county affairs; it reaches beyond the present and while so important I am mindful of its obligations and far reaching responsibilities. There are others, party nominees, who seek the same position and since that is true it is your privilege and your duty to determine in this contest who is best fitted to render the services so essential to the welfare of the rising generation. This position should not be a political one. It should not be hedged in by partisan bias, but your Superintendent should be selected on a broader plane and with higher motives than party service or party pride.

I lost my wife a year ago, and three motherless children are left with me. This office will enable me to take care of them, to be with them and to look after their welfare.

To vote for me, just stamp in the circle under my picture or photograph. You can then vote for all of any party ticket you may wish to, except for Superintendent by stamping in the circle beneath the device of that party.

Thanking you in advance for any support you may give me, I appeal to you to vote for the best interests of the children of your county.

Very Respectfully,
51-2t. Tobias Huffaker.

Jamestown.

Every thing is in readiness for circuit court which will be in session when this letter goes to press. The docket is about up to the average, and most of the time for a term in Russell county will be taken up.

In a short time Mr. Clay Sullivan, the present jailer, will remove, with his family, from Jamestown. He is undecided as to a location, and is thinking about buying a farm in Adair county, not far from Columbia. He is a good citizen and our people would regret to see him leave.

Mr. Henry Aaron, who does a good practice at this bar, arrived from Liberty a few days ago.

Mr. Aaron lived here quite a number of years, filling several important positions. During the six years he was Commonwealth's Attorney, he was a citizen of this place.

Mr. Rollin Hurt and J. F. Montgomery, well-known attorneys, members of the Columbia bar, will be in attendance on the court this week. O. B. Bertram, of Monticello, will also be here.

The local candidates are busy, riding day and night.

The grand jury for this term of circuit court is made up of two good men who will do their duty without fear or favor.

Chronic Dyspepsia.

The following unsolicited testimonial should certainly be sufficient to give hope and courage to persons afflicted with chronic dyspepsia: "I have been a chronic dyspeptic for years, and of all the medicine I have taken, Chamberlain's Tablets have done me more good than anything else," says W. G. Mattison, No. 7 Sherman St., Hornellsville, N. Y. For sale by Paul Drug Co.

ADAIR CIRCUIT COURT

OF KENTUCKY.

W. R. Gowen, & Co. vs. Culma Gowen and Ella Williams } Def.

By virtue of Judgment and order of sale of Adair Circuit Court, rendered at the September term, thereof, 1913, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court-house door in Columbia, Ky., to the highest bidder, at public auction, on Monday, the 3rd day of Nov., 1913, at one o'clock, p. m., or thereabout, (being county court,) upon a credit of six months the following described property, to-wit: Two certain tracts of land, situated in Adair county, Ky., on the waters of Big Creek, and fully described by meets and bounds, in the Judgment and order of sale, which is of record in the office of the Clerk of the Adair Circuit Court in order book No. 14, page 49, to which reference is made. For a more particular description said two tracts are supposed to contain 140 acres. It is not an investment, but protection against death. At the same time the money you pay into an old line company is as safe as it is invested in a government bond. Popular Delusions.

Widespread prevalence of the idea that there will be an actual union of the waters of the Atlantic and the Pacific upon the opening of the Panama Canal caused the War Department to issue a statement explaining the plain, prosaic fact that sea water on either side of the isthmus will get no further than the entrances of the great water way.

"To those who know the engineering features," said the statement, "this idea is rather amusing, so far as the canal is concerned the waters of the Atlantic and Pacific will never mingle. The Gatun Lake, which is midway of the canal, has an elevation of eighty-five feet above the oceans, and water from the lake will merely flow each way to the two oceans, the water from the lake being fresh and derived from the drainage of the surrounding area."

The statement also explained that the blowing up of the Gamboa dike on October 10 will not permit the passage of even a row boat from ocean to ocean, as it will be necessary to complete the removal of the dike by dredging and then to dredge out the Cucaracha slide before the canal will be opened from end to end.

What a Poor Boy Did.

Leaving the village school at the age of thirteen, Dwight L. Moody entered the army of wage earners, never again to enjoy the opportunity of an elementary education. When in after years he made friends who had confidence in him, and were willing to aid in his work, his heart went out to the class to which he had belonged when young, and he determined to do his utmost to afford an open door of opportunity for the youth of his country. The North held schools became the concrete expression of his sympathy for boys and girls who had been handicapped, and he determined to help them to acquire, as he expressed it, "such an education as would have helped me when I was that age."—The Christian Herald.

MYSTERY OF A SENTRY POST

A Strange Episode of the Spanish-American War.

During the Spanish-American war my regiment of United States Infantry occupied a single position in Cuba for quite awhile. We were not very near an enemy and kept out no vedettes or pickets, the colonel being satisfied with the usual chain of sentinels. There was one sentry post overlooking a valley from which every man posted at the evening relief disappeared. No cry, no sound of any kind, was heard at post No. 8, but the sentry placed there was not found when the corporal of the guard took a man to relieve him, nor was he ever heard of afterward. Some concluded that an enemy crawled up from below, stabbed him and took his body away. Some concluded that the post was haunted and the sentry was carried away by a ghost.

When the first man disappeared the officer of the guard reported the matter to the colonel, who, thinking that it would be better that the next man to stand post on No. 8 should not know of the occurrence, ordered the officer to keep the matter a secret and if there were inquiries about the missing man among his comrades to give out that he had been ordered away on a special service. So the second man did not know of the mystery of the first, nor the third of the second, nor the fourth of the third. The fourth man was the last to vanish, for after he had gone the regiment went to the front.

I was a member of Company C, and we knew more about the disappearance than the officers thought we did, but we didn't know what had become of the sentries. It was the prevailing opinion that the men were murdered by hostile Spanish citizens, but with what object we were ignorant. After the war closed I came north with the rest of the command, but eight years later went to Cuba on business, and there one day, while passing a sugar plantation, who should I see sitting before a workman's cabin but John Henderson, the last man who had disappeared from sentry post No. 8. At first he pretended not to know me, but I looked him square in the eye and told him he couldn't fool me. Then he told me the following story:

"When placed on post and left by the retreating relief I stood for awhile uncertain whether to risk death by some unearthly means or by being shot for deserting my beat."

"While I was deliberating I heard a girl's laugh and, looking down, saw a merry face and two black eyes peering up at me. The girl had a basket on her arm full of flowers and began to pelt me with them. I supposed she was simply passing that way and didn't connect her with the ghost who had spirited away the other sentries. I seized one or two posies and threw them back at her. She was too pretty to keep at a distance, and I invited her to come up and sit with me on the slope. It wasn't long before I had my arms around her and stole a kiss."

"She spoke some English and, pointing to a house below, told me she was on her way to a dance to take place there. We soon heard the sound of music, and the girl begged me to go down with her, have a dance and get back before the relief came. I was tempted and fell. I went with her, danced several times and was thinking of returning when I was surrounded and made a prisoner."

"They were about to take me out to shoot me when the girl who had arranged for my capture stood in the door and jabbered Spanish at them with constantly growing irritation. I didn't know then what she said, but learned afterward that, having given them three victims, she wished the fourth to be spared. Finally she prevailed, partly by threats to expose them to our troops above and partly by her influence over them. I was released and, accompanied by the girl, started up to camp. I had plenty of time to get there, but was dallying with her, she showing plainly enough that she had gone daft on me. I tried to tear myself away from her, but couldn't. I knew she had betrayed three other men, but her preference for me caught me, and while I was trying to get away from her I heard the relief visit my post. Then I knew I was too late, for if I went to camp I would be shot for being absent from my post."

"That threw the whole matter into the hands of the girl. It was the same as having sold my soul to the devil. I deserted, and we went away together. She deserted, too, for she never went back home. Her people were Spaniards, and the men who had been bent on shooting me were Spaniards. They lived about there with their families, and had the girl told on them, as she threatened to do, our colonel would have arrested and shot them. They had only consented to let me go on her promise that she would keep me from getting back to the command. Of course, not understanding Spanish, I didn't know this at the time or I should have been forewarned."

Henderson had married the girl, and they had several children. In that country women fade early, and upon an introduction I found the wife homely enough to use for a scarecrow. I have remembered the incident since as a warning to all men not to be led away from their duty by a pretty face. Henderson was living in terror, conscious of being a deserter, and all because he had listened to a siren.

Care of the Piano.

Never let your piano be left open at night or at any time when not in use. Keep it in an even temperature, if possible, for musical instruments are easily affected by alterations of heat, cold, dryness and moisture. For this reason do not place it next the outer wall of the house. An upright piano may be placed with the back next the wall, but a grand piano should be placed so that the player will face the persons in the room. Keep ornaments off the piano, unless it be the bust of a famous musician. Objects piled on top detract from the tone of the instrument. Open the lid occasionally to let in the air. A small bag of unslacked lime hung inside the lid will catch any dampness and prevent the strings from rusting. In winter when the fires are going, a piano sometimes gets too dry, for this reason it is well to keep a plant in the room, that is watered regularly, and this will require more water than a plant kept in any other part of the house. Have the piano tuned once every three months; pianos allowed to be out of tune for long, lose the power to retain tune. The strings become stretched, losing their elasticity. Keep the piano free from dust by wiping with a soft rag that is used to polish furniture, dampened with a little boiled linseed oil. Dust the inside of the piano every time it is tuned; do this very carefully so as not to harm the delicate construction. A light feather duster will do nicely where a rag can not reach. Wipe the keys frequently with alcohol. A small linen bag filled with camphor kept inside the piano will keep away moths.

Farm Items.

It's human to have the blues sometimes, but to overcome them is divine.

Remove everything about the place that has been an eyesore, and replace with things that will be good for sore eyes.

More young animals should be found on farms. Those who procure crops should raise animals to provide a market at home for the crops. This would save in the cost of marketing and give a wider margin for profit.

The Family Cough Medicine.

In every home there should be a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, ready for immediate use when any member of the family contracts a cold or a cough. Prompt use will stop the spread of sickness. S. A. Stid, of Mason, Mich., writes: "My whole family depends upon Dr. King's New Discovery as the best cough and cold medicine in the world. The world. Two 50c. bottles cured me of pneumonia." Thousands of other families have been equally benefited and depend entirely upon Dr. King's New Discovery to cure their coughs, colds, throat and lung troubles. Every dose helps. Cures For Snake Bites.

"Many people believe that whiskey is the only remedy for snake bites," said Sam Griffith, of Tracy City, Tenn., at the Tullane. "I know of a remedy that will never fail. I have tried it and know others that have used it with success. If you ever have a snake bite the first thing you want to do is to find a chicken. Kill the fowl and apply the hot entrails to the wound. Every drop of poison injected by the reptile will be taken out and your life saved. Another good and sure remedy is to take crushed onions and salt and repeat the application until the pain ceases and all the poison is drawn out. I have known people who suffer a snake bite to bury the wound in mud and let it remain there for several hours. This has been done with good effect. If a copper head snake bites you kill the reptile, split it open and bind around the wound. He will undo what he has done. All these remedies I know from experience to be all right and safe."—Nashville Tennessean.

Woman Who Got Dizzy

Every woman who is troubled with fainting and dizzy spells, headache, weakness, debility and constipation or kidney troubles should use Electric Bitters. They give relief when nothing else will, improve the health, adding strength and vigor from the first dose. Mrs. Laura Gaines, of Avoca, La., says: Four doctors had given me up and my children and all of my friends were looking for me to die, when my son insisted that I use Electric Bitters. I did so, they have done me a world of good." Just try them 50c. and $1.00 at all druggists or by mail, H. E. BUCKLEN & CO., Philadelphia.

Illiteracy and Bad Roads.

Illiteracy and bad roads are twin sisters. Where there is the most illiteracy in Kentucky you will find the worst roads, or to put it another way, where you find the worst roads, you will find the most illiteracy. We do not know that illiteracy is responsible for the bad roads, or whether the bad roads are responsible for the illiteracy. We do know this: that if you stamp out illiteracy by better schools you will soon get rid of bad roads, for intelligence won't take long to educate the people who live on them. The reason why the News for twenty-five years has been hammering on the school and road question is because upon both of these together hang the future development, progress and advancement of the State. You can not build a good road in Kentucky that a good school house and a good teacher will not follow it, and you can't build a good school house that a good road won't follow. We will never get rid of illiteracy and bad roads in Kentucky until the educational and good roads forces unite under the banner for the extermination of these twin sisters of ignorance and poverty.—Elizabethtown News.

Mother Sides With Son.

Grover Hall, aged 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hall, who blacked his father's eye in a controversy between his parents over the ownership of the family Bible, was fined $25 and costs by a jury in the Shelby County Court last Saturday.

The evidence of Mrs. Hall was the feature. She testified that the arbitrators appointed by the Circuit Court to divide the personal property between herself and her husband pending divorce proceedings were about to interfere when the fight started between father and son, but that she stepped between them.

"Why did you do that?" she was asked by Attorney E. B. Beard, who represented the Commonwealth.

"Because" she answered, "I could not whip him myself, and I wanted someone who could beat him up a little."

The cross-warrant, sworn out by the son against the father, was dismissed on motion of the prosecution. The case attracted considerable attention and the court-room was crowded during the trial. The son's fine was promptly paid by his mother.

Announcements.

Independent Candidate for Surveyor

L. M. GRIMSLEY.

For Superintendent.

We are authorized to announce PROF. TOBIAS HUFFAKER a candidate for Superintendent of Public Schools of Adair county, at the November election.

WHO WILL YOU EMPLOY?

If any citizen of this county had an important law suit pending in court, he would employ the best lawyer at the bar to represent him.

Kentucky owes a debt amounting to $1,600,000, which is bearing interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum. This debt must sooner or later be paid by the tax payers of the State, and the next General Assembly should devise plans to raise the money for that purpose.

The State government must be kept running. The schools must be maintained and the charitable institutions can not be closed. Weighty questions affecting all the tax payers must be solved by the next General Assembly within sixty days after the members reach Frankfort. But few people have studied these questions. No one could become familiar with these subjects within sixty days.

We have two candidates for Senator and two candidates for Representative. The voters of this county have seen and heard all of them express their views. Did they all talk like men acquainted with the business affairs at Frankfort?

Mr. Ewing has, in his public addresses, demonstrated to the people, that he has been studying the questions to be considered by the Legislature. If you want a business man, familiar with the business he proposes to conduct for you, then deposit your ballot in behalf of yourself and neighbor, by voting for Mr. Ewing, who has the capacity, the information and the determination to do what you want done. He favors abolishing useless offices and reducing expenses so that it will not require $7,000,000 annually to meet the expenses of the State government.

He knows where the knife should be applied without danger to the usefulness of any of the departments. He knows the kind and class of property that is now escaping taxation, and he can prepare a law that will reach the stocks and bonds and other kinds of intangible property and cause that class of property to bear its just proportion of the burden of taxation, which will bring about a reduction of the present tax rate. We advise you to employ J. O. Ewing to represent you in the trial of the great questions which are to come before the next session of the General Assembly.

TO THE PUBLIC.

I am disposed to meet my opponent with the utmost courtesy. I have no charges to make. We are both citizens of this county, and in a large measure known to those who will vote next Tuesday. I have not sought a single advantage, neither will I do any thing that will mislead any one who desires to cast a vote for the best interest of the public schools of this county. I am a plain citizen, who believes in the doctrine of the survival of the fittest, and to that extent, am willing to abide the decision of those who have children in our schools, and who are interested as teachers. Should I be elected, no partisan favors will be shown, and no punishment inflicted. The broad scope of my work already appears, it's fairness and impartiality are equally felt. No individual, no institution will receive from me a mark of excellency when not justly due. I will do my duty as my intelligence and God gives me the power to do it. My opponent, in your last issue, brings forward testimonials as to his powers as a teacher. I have no criticism to offer, except that it seems to me that he should have brought evidence of his moral standing from those who live nearest to him and who know him while not on duty as a teacher.

You are acquainted with the reports concerning his morals. He has not attempted to enlighten the public through the News, whether they are true or false, I do not know neither do I condemn, but moral fitness is ever more essential to the great uplift of our country than glittering intellectual endowments stained with the sins that have wrecked thousands of our fellows. You know I have ever been found contending for the right. You know my life, so far, has been in the battle for upright conduct, for intellectual advancement and for good citizenship in every department of human endeavor. You have only two men to fill this position. You know us both and on your decision it can only be settled. Your son, your daughter or your self will stand on the broad plane of equality as teachers, if I am selected as your superintendent. Trusting you will give me your vote and elect me, I have now made my last public plea.

Yours truly,
Tobias Huffaker.

It is to be regretted that Adair county is so hard to understand the importance and worth of good roads. The News has done its best, has worked in season and out of season, in fact, all the time, to arouse an interest and stir up activity in road building. It has suggested many plans, and pointed out many reasons why our roads should be improved and made substantial the year around, but up to this date every suggestion has been regarded as illogical, unfair and burdensome. We have appeared before the Fiscal Court with reasonable propositions, but every time met our quietus. The court, as heretofore made up, was not progressive, and has not done anything to advance the interest of the county, and it seems that a time for a change ought to come. It is not parties, but men, who hold down advancement or who direct progress. If you want better conditions in this county, vote for the men best fitted to bring about such conditions as your magistrate, whether he be Democrat, Republican or Progressive. Roosters, cabins and other party devices will never make a mile of good road.

Col. Roosevelt predicts that the Progressive party will never go back, declaring, "I warn our opponents that the fight has only just begun. Whatever may betide in the future, of one thing the disciples of any easy opportunism may rest assured—I will never abandon the principles to which we Progressives have pledged ourselves and I will never abandon the men and women who drew around me to battle for these principles. They and I stand with our faces toward the morning; we will never be sundered from one another; and we will never yield the ground we have taken or flinch from the fight to which we are pledged.

The Governor's proclamation asking the people to put in two days working the roads, met with a wet reception in this county, but had it been a dry occasion, we fear that it would not have met that hearty response, it so richly deserved. Our county is not awake to the worth of roads. Our people are too economical to undertake to build a mile.

We see no reason why the convicts should not be used on the building of the public roads and trust that the constitutional amendment permitting it will carry, next Tuesday.

The line between the political parties in this county seems to be out of joint, judging from what we can hear from many of the old stalwarts in days gone by.

The Republican nominee for School Superintendent is off. This leaves race between the Democratic and Independent candidates.

The Mexican situation does not seem to improve, and it now looks like this country will be seriously involved.

Judge John W. Hughes, of Harrodsburg, has been endorsed for Collector of the Eighth district by Senator James, and his appointment is said to be a certainty. Since writing the above the name of Mr. Hughes has been sent to the Senate, the appointment confirmed, and the Harrodsburg man has been sworn in. He will fill all positions with Democrats as soon as possible.

Tom Watson, the Georgia editor, a former congressman, and at one time a candidate for the Vice Presidency, who was indicted in the Federal Court for sending obscene literature through the mails, was promptly acquitted last week. In fact when the case was called the indictment was thrown out of Court. Catholics were instrumental in securing the indictment.

Only a few more days of suspense, and then it will be settled for four years, so far as county officials are concerned. Every Democrat ought to do his duty. In the main we have a splendid set of men, worthy of the confidence of the party and people.

It looks like every cow in the country is bound to take a trip to the cities—leaving home at from 3 to 4 cents to be returned at from 15 to 25. You can't raise cattle without cows, neither have milk nor butter.

The Perfect Laxative For Elderly People

Age has its attractions no less than youth in a more serene and quieter life. But it is this very life of rest without sufficient exercise that brings with it those disorders that arise from inactivity. Chief of these are a chronic, persistent constipation.

Most elderly people are troubled in this way, with accompanying symptoms of belching, drowsiness after eating, headaches and general lassitude. Frequently there is difficulty of digesting even light food. Much mental trouble ensues, as it is hard to find a suitable remedy. First of all the advice may be given that elderly people should not use salts, cathartic pills or powders, waters or any of the more violent purgatives. What they need, women as well as men, is a mild laxative tonic, one that is pleasant to take and yet acts without stripping.

The remedy that fills all these requirements, and has in addition tonic properties that strengthen the stomach, liver and bowels, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which thousands of elderly people use, to the exclusion of all other remedies. Trustworthy people like A. B. Tigrett, Oaklawn Farm, Newbern, Tenn., and Mrs. Lizzie S. Brooks, Paris, Ky., say they take it at regular intervals and in that way not only maintain general good health, but that they have not in years felt as good as they do now. You will do well to always have a bottle of it in the house. It is good for all the family.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 405 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

HELPFUL HINTS FOR HOUSEWIVES

Can Opener That Removes Top With One Cut.

A can opener that is intended for quick work has been designed by an Arkansas man. A spirally curved cutting blade that forms two heart-shaped sections is attached to a U shaped handle. At the bottoms of the sections are sharp points. To use this tool the cook has merely to press down upon it until it has sunk through the top of the tin clean to the handle, then give the implement one twist around and the entire top of the can is removed as swiftly and neatly as any one could wish. Where a number of cans have to be opened quickly this device is an obvious improvement over the type that slowly saws through the tin. Furthermore, there is here no danger of cutting the fingers on a jagged piece of lid.

Preserving Mint.

Drying is the best method. The mint should be picked just before it flowers and should be gathered on a dry day. Wash it thoroughly, spread on brown paper and place it in a warm oven to dry quickly, taking care, however, not to let it burn. When it is dry rub the leaves from the stems, cool, put into jars or bottles and cork tightly. The following recipe for mint sauce, using dried mint leaves, is recommended: Three tablespoonfuls of finely chopped mint leaves to two gills of French vinegar mixed with three ounces of powdered sugar.

Tongue With Spiced Sauce.

Brown two tablespoonfuls of butter and gradually add one pint of boiling water, stirring until smooth. Boil for a few minutes; then add a little grated lemon rind, one-third cupful of raisins and a pinch of salt, then six cloves, six peppers, one bay leaf tied in a piece of cloth. Cover the dish and simmer slowly until raisins are tender. Remove spices and add juice of one lemon. Cut the already cooked tongue into slices, add to sauce, cover and simmer until meat has become thoroughly seasoned. Serve with potato croquettes.

Scrambled Eggs.

A scrambled egg can be made to seem quite an important dish if a tablespoonful of milk and a dessert-spoonful of breadcrumbs are mixed in with it. Pour the milk on to the crumbs to soak them. Beat up the eggs in the usual way and stir the soaked crumbs into it.

Scramble all together lightly and quickly. A single egg done in this way seems as much as two done by the usual method.

Nut Bread.

One-half cupful of sugar, one egg, one teaspoonful of salt, one and one-quarter cupfuls of milk, four cupfuls of sifted flour, four level teaspoonfuls baking powder, one cupful of chopped nuts. Beat egg, add sugar, then flour which has been sifted, with salt and baking powder alternately with milk. Then nuts. Allow to stand in warm place twenty minutes and bake in moderate oven forty minutes.

Cheese Crisp.

Dissolve a piece of butter the size of a walnut in a chafing dish with three cupfuls of rich cheese dry enough to be grated. When melted add a pinch of salt and two tablespoonfuls of tomato ketchup. Serve on toasted thin crackers on warm plates piled high with very hot and crisp potato chips.

Damask and Double Damask.

Following is the distinctive meaning of damask and double damask as applied to table linen: The term damask refers to the satin finish in table linen. This finish is a matter of weaving, the facing that is given the flax thread. Double damask linen is a finer linen with the satin finish on both sides.

Almond Wafers.

Pour a layer of melted sweet chocolate into a flat greased pan and place a layer of blanched almonds on top of this. Cover these with another thin layer of melted chocolate and set away in a cool place. When perfectly dry cut them into thin wafers.

Baked Custard.

When making baked custard warm the milk before adding the eggs and there will be less danger of the custard turning watery. Bake in a pan set in boiling water.

The November Woman's Home Companion.

In the November Woman's Home Companion the campaign for "Better Babies" is still further carried forward by the establishment of a special department for "Better Babies" in which a series of articles is to be published containing practical suggestions to mothers for the care of children. These articles are to be contributed by great authorities on the subject. The first in the series is entitled "The Meaning of Motherhood," by Dr. S. Josephine Baker, Director of Child Hygiene, Department of Health, New York City.

Other splendid contributions to the November issue are: "The New Freedom for Little Children," by Mary Heaton Vorse, in which the author shows how the Montessori principle of education may be applied by American mothers; "The 'Movies' and the Theatre," by Daniel Frohman, the celebrated theatrical manager; "Thought as a Force in Daily Life," by Ralph Waldo Trine; "My Son-in-law's Wife," by a mother-in-law; "Little Courtesies of Social Life," by Christine Terhune Herrick; and "Reducing the Meat Bill," by a retail butcher.

Fiction of special interest is contributed. Margaret Deland begins a new serial story, and other fiction is contributed by Mary Heaton Vorse, Quincy Germaine, Juliet Wilbor Tompkins, Patience Bevier Cole and Zona Gale.

The regular Cooking, Fashion, Housekeeping, Home Decoration and Young People's Departments are filled with good things. Special art features and musical contributions complete an issue of unusual beauty, interest and practical value.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its tiring me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

Pleasant Point.

My school called Pleasant Point, is in Kentuck, Russell Co. Educational District 3—subdistrict 9. It is composed of a part of the noble counties of Russell and Adair, the house being near the line, between the two counties. We have a reasonably good frame house 22 x 30, containing 660 square feet of flooring. It has 6 windows, 1 door, a good blackboard, a good supply of patent desk a stove and globe.

We also have a good well, 3 croquet yards and nice shade trees. Our ball yard is not very good, but Mr. W. F. Sullivan permits us to play in his field near by. We have Prof. Robert Antle as superintendant, and Prof. M. R. Hale teacher, and plenty of bright boys and girls and it is useless to say we are having a good school. We have plenty of work and plenty of play. We have had several visitors, and are always glad to see them, and have them talk or play with us. So hurrah for all who will do or say anything to make our school a success, and hold up the name Pleasant Point the name will ever sound dear to all those who know our school.

TAX LAWS IN KY. CAUSES EVASION

Present Unsatisfactory Laws Responsible for Small Returns.

Retard Development and Lower Standard of Integrity—Efforts To Secure a Better System of Taxation Has Been Persistent for Fifteen Years.

Frankfort, Ky.—(Special)—The efforts to secure a better system of taxation for Kentucky have been persistent for fifteen years but owing to the ironclad restrictions in the state constitution it is exceedingly difficult to secure any change.

Tax commissions have repeatedly been appointed by authority of the legislatures and these commissions have unanimously condemned the general property tax which was adopted by the last constitutional convention and as the law is constitutional it has been impossible for the legislature alone to repeal it.

However, the last general assembly undertook to amend the constitution as provided by law and this amendment will have to be ratified by the people at the November election and if it fails to carry it cannot be voted on again for another five years.

The effect of the present law is to drive people and money from the state and to prevent other people and money from coming in and building up our industries.

This is how the general property tax is regarded by outsiders as indicated in a report of a commission appointed in another state and it applies in all respects to our present tax system.

"The personal property tax is a farce. It falls inevitably upon the comparatively few who are caught. The burden it imposes upon production is out of all proportion to the revenue it produces.

"Year after year state and local assessing boards have denounced it as impracticable in its workings and unjust in its results. These recommendations have for the most part passed unheeded or have led to ineffectual attempts to bolster up the law. It is time the situation was faced squarely, and the tax in its present form abolished.

"So far as the personal property tax attempts to reach intangible forms of wealth, its administration is so comical as to have become a byword.

"Such a method of collecting revenue would be a serious menace to democratic institutions were it not so generally recognized as a howling farce.

"But it is not a farce to those who are fully assessed. These are chiefly the widows and orphans who are caught when their property is listed in the probate court, farmers, retail merchants and others, incorporated or unincorporated, with stocks of goods, and the small investors who are not skillful enough to make non-taxable investments."

The state referred to has changed its tax system and already the receipts from taxation have increased enormously and the peculiar effect of it has been to lower the taxes on lands and improvements by securing a greater revenue from personal property which had formerly produced little or no returns.

Kentucky must increase its revenues to keep up its schools and public institutions and it would be manifestly unfair to make the property at present paying taxes sustain this added burden, but under the present law there is no other recourse.

If the amendment carries and the legislature is empowered to classify property so as to bring under the assessor's scrutiny the vast amount of personal property now escaping taxation the revenues can be increased and taxes on lands and houses diminished and what is more important than all we will be able to develop our resources, maintain our population and attract capital and people who will help to build up the state.

Ohio has recently changed its tax laws and has already been benefited and Tennessee is about to renounce the general property tax. Other states have either long since abolished it or are preparing to do so.

The present system in Kentucky was popular when the country was young and wealth largely confined to real estate which could not be hidden.

Wealth is now largely in personal securities which the assessor can not locate and in consequence this class of property escapes almost entirely.

Can we afford to neglect this great question and yet hope to compete with neighboring states which are less favored than ours naturally but have the advantage of cheap money and low taxes?

If the amendment fails to carry the next census will show that Kentucky has moved down another peg or so in its standing among the states and those at present paying taxes will inevitably have to pay more on the same property while others will escape by hiding their personal property from the assessors.

UNJUST TAX LAW IN KENTUCKY

How Unsatisfactory the Present Tax System Works in This State

Most Unequal System Ever Devised and Most of the Progressive States Have Abolished the Plan Used in Kentucky.

The present state constitution of Kentucky provides that "Taxes shall be uniform on all kinds of property," and on the surface this seems to be so fair the average thinker can find no fault with it.

In practice, however, it has been found to be the most unequal tax system ever devised, and most of the progressive states have abolished the plan.

Its inequalities and unfairness may be seen from the way it discriminates in certain classes of property and explains why Kentucky seems to have so little intangible wealth as compared with other states.

For instance, cash in savings banks draws only three per cent interest, gilt-edge bonds pay four per cent, real estate notes six per cent, stock in some foreign corporations ten per cent, while the tax on all is the same for state purposes, but varies for county and city purposes according to the location.

Thus where the income is only 3 per cent and the taxes 2½ per cent it leaves the owner only ½ per cent interest, and where the income is 10 per cent and the taxes 2½ per cent the interest is 7½ per cent. In this uniform?

In some counties land is assessed at 30 per cent of its value, in others 50 per cent, and in others 70 per cent. The state tax is the same in all the counties. Is this uniform?

If an honest farmer lists his property at its fair value and his unscrupulous neighbor puts a lower value on his property the former pays more than his share, while the latter pays less.

If the state board of equalization raises the entire list for that county, the honest man pays on property he doesn't own, and yet our law is supposed to be uniform.

That the personality owned by citizens of Kentucky is vastly more than is listed for taxation is a well-established fact; but the tax receipts don't show it. In fact, certain classes of property, such as stocks, bonds, notes and cash have almost disappeared from the tax rolls, and these evidences of wealth apparently grow less each year.

If the present system is allowed to remain in force, it will result, as it has in other states, in almost all kinds of personality disappearing from the assessors' books, and lands and houses which can not be hid or moved will have to bear the chief burden.

It has been so in every state where the "general property tax" has been the plan on which property was taxed, and most of the states have been wise enough to get rid of such an unequal and unfair system.

The Ohio state tax commission, in its 1908 report on the operation of the "general property tax," says:

"It is a failure for purposes of revenue or equality. Perhaps not 5 per cent of intangible property is listed. It punishes the honest. It rewards the dishonest. It frequently results in double taxation and lowers the standard of integrity."

The entire revenue of the state of Kentucky is about $7,000,000, while Michigan, with about the same area and population, receives $14,000,000 from taxes, only a small proportion of which is paid on land.

In Pennsylvania there is no state tax on farms or homes.

There are 7,000,000 acres of unimproved farm lands in Kentucky and yet vast quantities of farm products have to be imported.

There are about twenty-five thousand square miles of coal lands in Kentucky, and yet we buy millions of tons of coal from Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Indiana and Tennessee.

Kentucky raises thirty-eight per cent of the tobacco crop of the United States and manufactures only three per cent of it.

These are significant facts and our people should consider them.

There may be other causes for our lack of progress but it is an established fact that no state has ever prospered under the general property tax and it is also known that this deplorable system of taxation has always driven out capital, retarded development and caused untold losses in population.

The last general assembly passed an act amending the state constitution so as to permit future legislation on taxation which will go far towards remedying the evils and it is the duty of every citizen in the state to vote for the amendment at the November election. If it is not ratified at that time it will be impossible to vote on the question for another five years and it has been delayed too long already. It is time for us to wake up and get in line with other prosperous states. Vote for the constitutional amendment at the November election.

Bob White....

Is the farmer's friend. a bird in the field is worth more than you can hold in both hands.

You are made in the image of your Maker, yet you let instinct of birds surpass you.

Birds help you protect your crop from insects. Birds are Gods message to man.

Let your friends shoot into your flock of chickens rather than your Bob White.

Of several species of quail, found in the United States, the most faithful of the farmer is our own Bob White.

It has taken scientists a long time to find out his great value it is to the fact and figures of the biological survey that we are indebted for the knowledge that while Bob White is seldom guilty of trespassing he is of constant value as a destroyer of weeds and injurious insects.

From an examination of many hundreds of stomachs, it has been found from early autumn until spring, his food consists of vegetable matter, of weed seed of a noxious and troublesome kind.

Eighty-five different weeds have been found to contribute largely to the bird's menu, and his marvelous appetite is his most valuable asset. Crop and stomachs have been found which over crowded with rag-weed seed to the number of 1000, while another had eaten as many seed of crab grass. After a winter in which a vegetarian diet has largely predominated, Bob White has no desire for the sprouting grain, but in the early spring he is out on the war-path hunting for animal food, his bright eyes are always on the lookout for the earliest comers among the insect pest, during spring, summer and autumn, his services are invaluable.

The chief bug leads the list of expensive insects with a tribute levied upon the American farmer which is estimated at $100,000,000 pr. year.

This destructive pest invades the wheat fields but Bob White leads his covey to the fray.

The grasshopper is next in amount of danger done, and is estimated at 90,000,000 per year tax upon this country, but here too Bob White is on duty.

The potato bug is at a cost of 8,000,000 per year. Very few birds will touch them, but the faithful Bob White is always ready for them, in fact he has to his credit a list of 57 different beetles, 27 varieties of bugs.

I freely admit that when abundant, the quail is a legitimate game bird, but he is worth so much more to the farmer's field than in the stomach, that until they become superfluous, it behooves him to protect them in every possible way.

Man is Bob White's worst enemy, but by shorter open seasons
